

The Hotel: Hotel Zoo Berlin

Are you more of a Romy Schneider or a Grace Kelly? This is the question you have to ask yourself before laying your head to rest in the Hotel Zoo Berlin that once housed Hollywood's most glamorous film stars and swinging Great Gatsby-style parties in the golden 1920s. The hotel had seen it all, until it was closed in 2012, only to shine in new splendour at its reopening in 2014. Designed by Dayna Lee, the glamour of the past was restored and paired up with the new to create a dazzling townhouse as contrasting as Berlin itself. Whether you wish to spend your evenings in the "living room" lounge or on the rooftop-terrace – Hotel Zoo Berlin has got it all (plus 144 rooms of which none looks alike).
